A Commission that has voted by an absolute majority (>50%) to meet in another place shall inform the FAI Secretary General and consult with him about fixing a suitable date. In any case, Commissions shall meet in the vicinity of FAI Head Office at least once every third year. In addition, the host organisation shall pay all costs, including suitable travel from FAI Head Office to the meeting place, hotel accommodation, and administrative expenses of the FAI Secretary General and/or his authorized representatives. The host organisation may charge a registration fee for the range of services and events offered in connection with meetings held elsewhere than at FAI Head Office. However, no approved delegate to a Commission shall be refused entry to Commission plenary or sub-committee working sessions on the ground that he has not registered.
